

Mrs van Outen-About

Darling Members,

Now, you must pay close attention to this months' dispatch as next month I will be far, far away from all method of communication and will not be able to badger you with my periodical social propaganda! As the Club looks forward to the quiet summer months, I am taking the opportunity to clear my diary and head for the hills for a holiday. There will be no 'phone, TV or internet access and I must say I'm rather looking forward to it. Although, the scantiness of a cosmetic counter and a good hair salon won't go unnoticed - hopefully not so much by Mr V! I'm hoping that the billiard room will be near completion on my return – the work is moving along at a steady pace although apparently slowed a little by “unauthorised personnel” letting themselves in. Surely not! Surely I'm not alone in thinking that being told off by a builder whilst waist deep in floorboards was ever a good look. Shame on you! Well, that's all from me for now – do remember to get your names in the book early for events – don't wait until the last minute otherwise you run the risk of missing out altogether should the event have to be postponed or even worse – cancelled. I won't hear of such a thing!

Love Mrs V xx

Friday 25th June

Glasgow Art Club Summer Exhibition Opening 7pm £15

With the focus on relaxed and informal, a delicious seasonal finger buffet will be served following the opening at 7pm. There will also be a summery cocktail menu served from the bar all evening – I wonder how far I'll get if I ask for a Long Slow Comfortable Screw Up Against a Cold Hard Wall. Not far I wager – it contains amongst others, vodka, gin and whisky. Think I'll stick to a modest Dirty Martini!! Don't forget to book.

Thursday 29th June

Unclubbed@theGAC 7.30pm onwards

Following the success of two of Unclubbed's regular giggers, there are to be two debut album launches taking place in the Club later this summer. King Tuts Wah Wah Hut can claim to have given Oasis their big break, we will however be able to boast being the launch pad for the much more delightful and far less offensive Clair Tierney and Chiara Berardelli!

Friday 30th July

Exhibition Opening – time and details to be confirmed

Fashionably vague is how I shall term the arrangements for this event at the moment – I have been unsuccessful in finding out any more details, which is unlike me, but I'm sure you will be notified accordingly and in good time. 'Tis the height of summer after all dahlings!

Tuesday 24th August

Artist Meeting & Supper - Meeting at 6.30pm - Supper served at 8pm - £8.50

If you are just attending the meeting there is no need to book, but please do so if you wish to supper.

Thursday 26th August

Unclubbed@theGAC 7.30pm onwards

Friday 27th August

Autumn Exhibition Opening & Dinner from 7pm £17

The perfect opportunity to get together with chums and share tales of your summer holidays over a large glass of something chilled. The opening will take place at 7pm followed by a delicious two course seasonal supper with coffee and petit fours from 8pm. Please book for supper.
